A HealthTech AI startup is looking for an experienced CEO & Co-founder to lead a pre-seed venture seeking to develop and commercialize the next breakthrough in digital pathology.
The venture, located in Central Israel, is based on proven groundbreaking technology, and has secured a pre-seed investment from a leading HealthTech VC and a global diagnostics multinational. We look for an entrepreneur at heart with vast experience as a CEO or business development leader, and proven track record raising money from VCs from seed up to growth rounds.

- Vast experience in the BioMedical/ HealthTech space
- Experience with building business operations, sales, marketing, and G&A operation
- Proven skills in working with large international corporations, channel partners, and technological representatives
- Leadership skills and team player

The position responsibilities are:

- Define the overall strategy from launch to scale
- Lead fundraising from VCs, Angel investors, and corporate funds
- Build strategic partnerships and relationships to drive growth
- Driving day-to-day operations
